Trademark Guidelines

Effective 22 Nov 2026 Version 1.0 For everyone

The short version

- You may say your product works with Electron Hub, accurately and in plain text.
- Don't use our name or logo in a way that suggests we endorse you.
- Don't use our name in your product, company or domain name.

This summary helps you find your way. The full text below is what applies.

The Electron Hub name and logo are ours. These guidelines explain how you may use them.

1. What you may do

- Refer to Electron Hub in plain text to say accurately that your product or project uses or works with Electron Hub, for example "Built with Electron Hub" or "Supports the Electron Hub API".
- Use the logo unmodified to link to electronhub.ai.

2. What you may not do

- Suggest that Electron Hub sponsors, endorses or is affiliated with you or your product.
- Use "Electron Hub", or anything confusingly similar, in your product, company, app, social-media account or domain name.
- Modify, animate or recolour the logo, or combine it with other marks.
- Use our name or logo on merchandise or in advertising without our written permission.

3. Model names

Model names such as GPT, Claude, Gemini and Llama are trademarks of their developers. Electron Hub is not affiliated with or endorsed by them unless we say so expressly.

4. Questions

For permission or questions, email support@electronhub.ai with the subject "Trademark".
